What is the Resident Bootcamp?

The Resident Bootcamp is a 3-hour workshop that will be held for residents to review various clinical topics that the AAPM&R Physiatrist in Training (PHiT) Council Board have identified as areas of variable exposure in residency programs. Each of the topics will be reviewed by faculty who are viewed nationally as clinical experts in that clinical area. This will have a 40-minute rotating station format, with a break between each station. Residents/fellows will be split up into 4 groups and will rotate through each station, gaining hands-on experience with each of the topics.

Clinical Topics Include:

- Ultrasound of nerves
- Chemodenervation dosing and differences between different medications
- Upper and lower extremity prosthetics and orthotics
- Evidence-based physical exam maneuvers

Faculty List:

- Marc P. Gruner, DO, MBA, RMSK (Session Director)
- Stephanie Tow, MD (Session Director)
- Atul T. Patel, MD, MHSA, FAAPMR
- Jeffrey Strakowski, MD
- Scott R. Laker, MD, FAAPMR
- Katharine E. Alter, MD, FAAPMR
- Monica Verduzco-Gutierrez, MD, FAAPMR
- Blaise Pascale
